A Successful Event at Saltbua in Hellvik Norway, Impressed the Supporters of FFF.

Dear friends of Farm For the Future, I hope this Newsletter finds you well. As for me, to be honest, I'm still awestruck and awash in admiration as everything is far beyond my expectations. And today I am thrilled to pass along news of the resounding success of our recent event at Saltbua på Hellvik in Norway. This gathering was attended by a remarkable group of investors, sponsors, and supporters of FFF, hailing from various parts of Norway including me, coming all the way from Ilula Tanzania. I was overwhelmed with happiness to finally put the faces to the names, since I had only met most of them on papers, and now finally I see their profound smiling faces. I could see from their eyes how proud they were being in that room.

The event was attended by over 100 people.

The event started in a room full of people, eager to hear a good story about Farm For the Future. It started with the Project Manager, Osmund Ueland welcoming all and giving a powerful update on the progress of our farm and all of our development projects.

Six years ago FFF seemed to be an impossible project, but here we are today the farm has expanded 100 ha more, the barren dry land of then has a mini lake today, and two big irrigation systems. In the next four years there will be a 69 ha forest of macadamia trees. The impossible project has become possible. It was such a touching moment that people got teary eyes.

I took the stage, with my heart beating faster than usual, and I told my side of the story, about how important the farm is to us. With the seeds produced by the FFF farm, food is secured, the community is empowered and Tanzania is safe. I continued to share the impressive progress of our farm. To my delight, the feedback and comments from our investors were overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing their unwavering support for our strategic vision and development plans.

In the end, I could see how the attendees were amazed by the tangible results they witnessed on the farm. Their enthusiasm and the rising excitement for our mission were solid, serving as a testament to the hard work and dedication of my team back on the farm.

I am touched beyond words by the love, warmth and support from the FFF family in Norway. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to all the volunteers who selflessly contributed their time and effort to make this event a resounding success. The investors who paid and invited me to be here, provided the venues and gave me an astonishing life experience. Team Ueland for making all the food and preparing this event. The Choir, Musicians and the Band for lighting up the space with their wonderful voices. The videographer for being very efficient at capturing this memorable event. All our Supporters, Sponsors, and Investors for taking their time and being with us at this wonderful event. Your support and commitment to FFF's mission are truly invaluable, and we at FFF are honored to have you as part of our community.
